Clocks Will Move Up One Hour Next Monday at 2:00 A. M.

Everything Else Will Go On as Before: Trains and Radio Guides

Washington, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The clocks will move up an hour next Monday—but everything else will go on as before.

Unlike summer "Daylight Saving Time"—when some cities have it and others don't—every railroad, bus line and radio station will be running on the same schedule after the national time shift as before. The only thing changed will be the relationship between your watch and the sun.

There will be minor difficulties at the moment of change. All trains and planes en route at 2 a. m. next Monday will reach their terminals one hour late. The terminal clocks will be advanced, but engineers and pilots may not change their watches while on a run.

Transportation and radio officials said today they contemplated no changes in schedules beyond a few minor adjustments where schedules depend on sunlight.

Some local railroad runs may be changed, on the clock, to keep them the same by the sun, because they serve a clientele governed by daylight.

Generally speaking, the transportation and radio industries—which effectively if unofficially guide the nation's time habits—propose to do nothing next Monday except move their clocks and watches ahead one hour. They suggest that you do the same.

The new time, designated by President Roosevelt as "War Time", in place of the old "Daylight Saving", will be nationwide, effective throughout the year until after the war. The four American time-belts will continue as before.

STATE SITUATION

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 4.—(AP)—The state's policy on adoption of "War Time" next week was still officially unsettled today although most officials said they assumed their offices would move their clocks one hour ahead next Monday to conform with the federal daylight time law.

The adoption of fast time as a war measure is intended to conserve electricity for vital industrial use, but the law is mandatory only for federal offices, railroads, and other enterprises operating in interstate commerce.

A representative of Governor Green's office said he did not believe the chief executive planned to make any statement relative to the time change.

Walter A. Rosenfield, state director of Public Works and Buildings, said, however, that instructions were being awaited from the governor before a decision would be made as to which time would govern his department's activities.

Officials of the Department of Public Welfare said they expected their institutions would conform to the time used by communities in which they were located.

Other state officials contacted said they did not know which time their offices would follow.

The question of whether local communities throughout the state will adopt the "war time" is legally a matter for action by city boards and councils. Some city governments have already adopted resolutions which will place their communities on daylight time February 9.

There has been opposition to the earlier time in some rural areas, led by farmers who claim it will interfere with the routine of their work.

The War Today!

The tales of woe which are pouring out of the nazified Europe that Adolf has built probably represent, when viewed in the aggregate, a greater danger to the fuhrer than the devastation which is stalking the ranks of his armies.

The over-night news carried a fresh crop of developments which emphasize the chaos into which the unhappy continent has sunk. With each succeeding day we get more vividly the picture of a Germany which is still powerful but which stands as an island in a sea of disaster and despair.

This means that Herr Hitler is driven to wage war against more than armed forces. He is fighting to keep from being engulfed in this growing chaos himself. And that's a bit of encouragement for the allies to go along with.

No wonder Andrei Malyshev, Communist party spokesman, declared yesterday in Kuibyshev that Russia "will not give Hitler the pleasure of unleashing war in the Far East." The Muscovites are going to stick to the number one conflict which is going so amazingly well for them.

In an effort to rush troops, equipment and supplies to the Russian front to meet this bolshevik menace, Hitler last night again restricted civilian railway travel throughout central Europe because of the great shortage of rolling stock. And that's only part of the story of the railways, for all the countries which have hitched their wagons to Hitler's meteor are short of coal and oil.

Plenty Goes on in Philadelphia's "99 Pct. Perfect" Blackout Test

Philadelphia, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The east's first major wartime blackout test was described as "99 per cent perfect" today by those in command but many a district air raid warden decided that something would have to be done about the vagaries of chance.

There was, for example, the light in a locked meat market which kept flashing last night while most of the illumination in a 3,500-square mile area where 3,159,572 people live had been turned off. Auxiliary Policeman Frederick Estrade later found a cat was to blame; a cat that was fascinated by the light in some scales which automatically came on when she leaped on the tray.

Most of the plants working around the clock couldn't participate because of production problems, but Dr. A. C. Marts, state civilian defense director, termed populous South Philadelphia and the giant navy yard "the darkest spot I have looked at since I was a 10-year-old boy in a cemetery".

This was true of virtually all the test area, which covered five Pennsylvania counties and three in southern New Jersey across the Delaware river.

Question of Free Insurance for Men In Service Raised

Issue Talked in Debate Over War Damages Corporation

Washington, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Banking committee members indicated today they would urge the house to pass sharply the $15,000 maximum free insurance for property loss proposed in a senate-approved bill to set up a war damage corporation.

The members were described as feeling that the top amount of coverage the government should provide free ought to be about $7,500. On other provisions of the senate measure the committee was in general agreement, and indications were the bill would be approved tomorrow and sent to the house floor.

As passed by the senate, the bill creates a $1,000,000,000 fund to insure the property of American citizens from damage by enemy war action. The program would be administered by a subsidiary agency of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation known as the War Damage Corporation.

The house committee accepted an amendment to deny the free coverage to water cargo shipments in cases where private in-

6-Year-Old Girl Garroted, Raped

San Bernardino, Calif., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Mrs. Lillian Bell, frail and dark-haired, looked with bitter longing at a picture of her 6-year-old daughter, Shirley Marie, clad in a gay plaid suit and jaunty hat, and cried:

"Shirley was so gay, so sweet, so loving... and too trusting." Too trusting... Shirley accepted a bicycle ride from a stranger as she started for school Monday... Twenty-four hours later searchers discovered her raped body... partly buried in wild and brushy Lytle creek wash... She had been strangled with her jumping rope... Footprints indicated she had fought her assailant.

County Autopsy Surgeon F. S. Small said Shirley had been raped. Officials questioned several men in their search for the killer, described as about 30 years old, dark and bareheaded. Neither a rancher nor a playmate who saw Shirley riding on the handlebars of a stranger's bicycle could add much to that description.

Robert Bell, Shirley's father, swore, "if I ever get my hands on that murderer, there will never be a trial." Shirley was the Bell's only child.

Heavy Battles in Smolensk Area of Russia Reported

Reds Seek to Cut Off Escape of Nazis Over Napoleonic Road

(By The Associated Press)
Soviet front-line dispatches reported heavy battles were raging today near several key towns in the Smolensk sector, 230 miles west of Moscow, with the Germans falling back under the assault of a powerful Russian counter-offensive.

Smolensk is the main anchor of Adolf Hitler's winter defense line on the central front.

While none of the "key towns" was specified, the Russians have been driving close upon Yelnya, only 35 miles southeast of Smolensk, in a thrust to cut off the escape of German armies retreating along the old Napoleonic road from Moscow.

Fierce fighting also was reported on the Leningrad front, where a British broadcast said the Germans had been thrown back 18 miles south of the one-time czarist capital by heavy Russian attacks.

A Red army bulletin said Russian troops attacking in the Leningrad sector had destroyed 16 nazi blockhouses, killed nearly 800 German troops and captured vast quantities of equipment.

The Russians announced officially that counterattacks by reserve-bolstered German divisions around Smolensk and Dniepropetrovsk in the Ukraine, had been smashed.

"Our troops again advanced," it was stated.

Soviet troops were reported sharply threatening Dniepropetrovsk, site of a $100,000,000 hydro electric power dam which the Russians destroyed before it fell into German hands last year.

On the North African front, the sweep of Field Marshal Gen. Erwin Rommel's axis forces encroached upon Derna, only 95 miles west of Tobruk, after driving the British 160 miles north-east of Benghazi.

British military quarters in London acknowledged that Derna had been abandoned after Imperial Indian rearguards "completed their movement from their last covering positions" and rejoined the main British column.

London quarters, however, declared flatly that the main British force had not yet clashed with Gen. Rommel's army and that only patrol and rearguard actions had been fought.

Retreat Unexplained
There was still no official explanation for the sudden British retreat after hurling the Germans back more than 350 miles from the Egyptian-Libyan frontier last month.

An authoritative British source declared that the pick of Germany's U-boat commanders and crews had been shifted to the Mediterranean to help guard the flow of reinforcements to General Rommel's North African army.

Premier Mussolini's high command said German and Italian columns were pressing their advance on Derna after inflicting a heavy defeat on Indian troops thrown

Four Men Die in Fire in San Diego City Jail

San Diego, Calif., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Four men burned to death and eleven were injured as fire damaged the city jail before dawn today. Flames started in the walls of the padded cell block.

Firemen used gas masks to rescue the injured. Cause of the fire was not determined.

False reports that some of the 26 alien Japanese taken into custody yesterday had escaped spread quickly. The Japanese, however, were in the county jail.

'Sugar Stamps' to Be Issued Under Rationing Setup

Washington, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Special "sugar stamps," to be issued by the government to registered consumers, will be required before purchases can be made under the pending sugar rationing program, it was learned today.

Each stamp will permit an individual to buy 12 ounces of sugar—his weekly ration.

A spokesman for the Office of Price Administration disclosed that booklets containing enough stamps to last three months or more would be printed and that the time required for the printing would delay operation of the rationing machinery for at least another month.

It was reported that the plan contemplates registration of consumers by families, with stamp booklets to be issued to each member of the family regardless of age. However, no more than one stamp per person may be used each week. This would allow a family of three, for example, a weekly ration of 36 ounces of sugar.

Details Not Worked Out

The OPA spokesman said details of the registration requirements had not yet been worked out but that the registration would not be handled by local postoffices. Stamp books will be issued at the time of registration.

OPA said the rationing would be supervised by local boards, now handling tire rationing but augmented by a member or members drawn from the food industry.

It was understood that retail-ers accepting the sugar stamps would paste them on "sugar cards". When a card is filled, the retailer then can present it to his wholesaler as authority to purchase the exact amount of sugar represented by the stamps on the card.

Details of the rationing are being perfected jointly by the OPA and the War Production Board.

Generalissimo of Allies Encourages Singapore Defense

Japs Blast Anew Today at Beleaguered City; Other News of War

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor
Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell, allied generalissimo, announced today that the United States and Britain were sending "great reinforcements" to the Far Pacific battle theater, while in the five-day-old siege of Singapore, British gunners rained shells into Japanese troops massed across the mile-wide Johore strait.

"Our part is to gain time for great reinforcements which we and our 'American allies are sending to the eastern theater', Gen. Wavell said, in a special order of the day.

"We are in a similar position to the original (1914) British Expeditionary Force which stopped the Germans and saved Europe in the first battle of Ypres".

Gen. Wavell's heartening message was the second official word in 24 hours that mighty counterblows against Japan are soon to be struck by the United Nations.

Gen. Wavell, hero of the first British offensive into North Africa and one of the world's shrewdest military strategists, also declared that the Japanese "have now reached an area where we cannot be constantly outflanked and where the enemy cannot exploit superior mobility".

Bombers Blast Singapore
Japanese bombers blasted anew at the beleaguered Singapore defenders, inflicting some damage but few military casualties, British headquarters reported.

Embers still smoldered in the wreckage from yesterday's aerial assaults, in which the toll was listed officially as 22 killed and 90 wounded. By nightfall, all but two fires were reported under control.

Today's communique tersely reported that there was "no change" in the five-day-old siege as reinforced British, Australian and Imperial Indian troops worked steadily to install and camouflage new machine-gun nests, rifle pits and gun emplacements in the tangled mangrove swamps facing the enemy.

Negro Confesses Murder of Woman

Chicago, Feb. 4.—(AP)—A 64-year-old Negro accused of robbing and molesting women in a series of small shop holdups confessed today, Sgt. Jack Hanrahan of the Detective Bureau announced, that he fatally slugged Mrs. Amalia Fantl, 64, in her notions store on West 63rd street Jan. 26.

Hanrahan said William Payne admitted bludgeoning Mrs. Fantl with a hammer after finding her alone in the shop and selecting five valentines from a counter with her assistance.

Payne was captured a week ago after slashing another woman with a knife while robbing a beauty parlor on North Clark street.

Mrs. Fantl was the mother of three soldier sons, one of them in the Philippines with General MacArthur.

In Des Moines state police said their records showed Payne was arrested in Fort Dodge, Ia., in 1938 for "investigation of robbery and rape," but that he was never sentenced on that charge. Instead, they said, he was sent to an insane ward at Anamosa for "safe-keeping," and was released in November of 1940 after the state psychiatric board found him sane.

He told police he was released from Menard, Ill., asylum for the criminal insane six years ago after he had been sent there from Joliet penitentiary where he had been serving a term for larceny.

In the complaint, carelessness, negligence and recklessness are charged against the defendant and judgment in the amount of $10,000 and the costs of the court action is sought in settlement for the death of the plaintiff intestate. The plaintiff also seeks judgment in the amount of $2,500 for personal injuries sustained in the accident. Attorneys B. Jay Knight and Frederick H. Hays of Rockford and Robert L. Bracken of Dixon represent the plaintiff.

Porky, Mongrel of Questionable Ancestry, Proves Love for His Pal

Corunna, Ont., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Inseparable pals are Major, an 18-month-old 175-pound St. Bernard, and Porky, a little mongrel of questionable ancestry.

In warm weather Major liked to swim in the St. Clair river. Yesterday he went down and tried to pioneer on ice. Into the water he went.

Porky, eight years old, made a beeline for his master, Capt. Bernard Zink of the oil tanker Britomolene. Quite a few persons, among them Captain Zink, followed Porky back to the river bank.

Hat's in Ring

Three Republican county officials, whose terms expire this year—Sheriff Gilbert P. Finch (top), who seeks the nomination for County Treasurer, and County Clerk Sterling Schrock (center) and County Judge Grover W. Gehant (below), both of whom seek re-election—today announced their candidacies for nomination in the April 14 primaries.

Sheriff Finch is a life long resident of Lee county and as such has always endeavored to be of service in the active affairs of the county. He appreciates the fine support given him in the past, and respectfully asks consideration at the April election.

Judge Gehant was elected County Judge to fill the unexpired term of the late William L. Leech in November 1937 and is now completing his first full term.

Auto Accident Last Year Brings Action in Lee Circuit Court

Frank W. Scholl as administrator of the estate of Frank Lawrence School, deceased, has filed a complaint in Lee county Circuit court naming Arnold Spangler as defendant. The suit is the outgrowth of an automobile accident which occurred on the evening of Sept. 1st, last year, about three and one-half miles east of Dixon at the Daysville road corner, in which F. L. Scholl sustained fatal injuries.

In the complaint, carelessness, negligence and recklessness are charged against the defendant and judgment in the amount of $10,000 and the costs of the court action is sought in settlement for the death of the plaintiff intestate. The plaintiff also seeks judgment in the amount of $2,500 for personal injuries sustained in the accident. Attorneys B. Jay Knight and Frederick H. Hays of Rockford and Robert L. Bracken of Dixon represent the plaintiff.

Porky, eight years old, made a beeline for his master, Capt. Bernard Zink of the oil tanker Britomolene. Quite a few persons, among them Captain Zink, followed Porky back to the river bank.

They weren't able to do anything so Porky went back to town again. Soon others arrived, but all they could do was to push a long pole to Major, who was too exhausted to do anything but put his paws on it.

Then Porky, a runt compared to the St. Bernard, jumped in to aid his pal. There was a lot of splashing, but Porky finally hauled his heavy burden close enough to shore so that the two could be pulled to safety.

Major was too weak to stand, but today he was up to bones again.

Flying Fortresses of American Force Return After Raid

MacArthur Repulses New Attack on Left Flank in Batan Peninsula

BULLETIN
Lewes, Del., Feb. 4.—(AP)—The freighter San Gil, owned by the United Fruit company, was torpedoed and shelled by an enemy submarine off the Maryland coast at 11:50 o'clock last night with the loss of two lives, it was disclosed with the landing of survivors here today.

Thirty-nine other members of the crew and one passenger were saved. Four of the crew were injured.

There have been 15 announced attacks prior to the San Gil torpedoing of the Atlantic coast and 14 of them have resulted in sinking of American or allied vessels. Only one vessel, the tanker Malay, has been attacked without sinking.

Washington, Feb. 4.—(AP)—A local attack on General Douglas MacArthur's left flank on Batan peninsula the night of February 3 was sharply repulsed, the war department announced today.

A communique also said that a delayed report from the Netherlands Indies disclosed that seven American army bombers sank two Japanese transports and probably a third in an attack on enemy shipping at Balikpapan on the east coast of Borneo on February 2. The department said this attack was believed to be the same mentioned in a communique issued yesterday by General Sir Archibald Wavell at Batavia.

The text of the communique, No. 91 of the war, based on reports received here up to 8:30 a. m. CST today:

"1. Philippine Theater:
"During the night of February 3, elements of the 16th (Kimura) division made a local attack on our left flank in Batan. The attack was sharply repulsed.

"Our troops continued to mop up tattered remnants of the Japanese who had previously landed on the west coast or who had infiltrated behind our lines. These enemy troops were from the Tator group and the Kimura division and were found in isolated pockets. No reinforcements were able to reach them. The enemy had attempted to supply them intermittently with food and ammunition dropped by parachute. However, most of these supplies fell into our hands.

"Japanese prisoners of war expressed great surprise at the humane treatment they are receiving at our hands. They said they had been told that we would execute all prisoners.

"On our right there was little activity during the past 24 hours. "Enemy air activity over our lines was limited to a few sporadic bombing attacks which did no damage.

"2. Netherlands Indies:
"A delayed report advises that seven heavy American army bombers of the flying fortress type attacked Japanese shipping at Balikpapan, Borneo, on February 2. Two enemy transports were sunk and a third, which was hit repeatedly, was probably sunk. All of our planes returned to their base undamaged. It is believed that this attack is the one mentioned in General Wavell's communique of yesterday.

"3. There is nothing to report from other areas."

Dixon Shoe Factory Works on Army Order

The Dixon plant of the Freeman Shoe Company is in the midst of huge army defense orders it was learned today when Superintendent Robert Axline informed the Telegraph of two orders totaling 122,550 pairs of shoes to be turned out.

One order, now being filled, calls for 77,500 pair of garrison oxfords, the second order being for 45,000 pair of the standard army service shoes. Superintendent Axline stated today that the production schedule provided for the manufacture of 1,000 pair of oxfords daily, now in effect, and within a few days this is to be increased by the manufacture of 1,500 pairs of the service shoes, a total of 2,500 pairs daily until the orders are filled.

The Capital looked to American air and sea forces to take an increasingly heavy toll of Japanese expeditions now threatening Java.

Although the destination of a 69-ship Japanese convoy which the Chinese reported off Amoy was undetermined, there was little doubt that it was headed for Java.

Neighborly Kindness

Our attention has been called to a very neighborly act during the past week when a group of men gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gras north of town and sawed their wood for them. Mr. Gras has been unable to do any kind of work since before Christmas. The men who so kindly assisted were: Claire Colwell, Harold Murshon, Adam Grim, Ernest Fair, Heller brothers, John Hewitt, Alfred Hinzleman, Clayton Kesseling, Clarence Miller, Charles and Clinton Heffer.

A lovely dinner was taken to the Claire Colwell home and prepared by the following ladies: Mrs. John Hewitt, Mrs. Ernest Fair, Mrs. Clarence Miller, Mrs. John Bennett, Misses Eunice and Lucy Gilbert and Mrs. Rebecca Colwell. In a conversation with Mrs. Gras she said the kindness of these neighbors would never be forgotten, which is true in many other places where helpful kindness has been given. Words fail to express one's appreciation for such kindness.

About a week ago their daughter, Mrs. Laurence Post, who lives on a farm near Milledgeville, left for Ft. Scott to assist in the care of their mother. Many may recall that Mr. and Mrs. Kibble and two daughters, Faith and Velma lived north of Franklin Grove in the Mielke tenant house just north of the Joe Gilbert farm about fifteen years ago and have been here several times on visits, so are known to many in this vicinity.

Methodist Church Notes

This is our "Christ Centered Season" of Church Loyalty. We are joining in an "all out" campaign against the forces of evil with a special appeal for each individual to realize anew just how much his church means to him, his family, his community and his country in trying times like these.

You can do your part by talking, dreaming, planning, expecting, working and praying for church loyalty. Furthermore, worship with us Sunday.

Morning worship 9:30 o'clock. Church school, 10:30 o'clock. Youth Meeting—This week end is the date of our annual sub-district "Mid-Winter Institute" at Walnut. Every young person of the church is cordially invited to attend.

The Lenten season is just ahead of us, so let's begin now to prepare ourselves for a "Christ Centered Season" of church loyalty. There are no "ration cards" issued for church attendance, yet, and the church, our first line of defense, has never weakened or been forced to evacuate before materialistic forces; for Jesus Christ, our "Commander-in-Chief" is the same yesterday, today and forever.

We urge you to express your loyalty by attending our church every Sunday throughout the "Christ Centered Season."

Here are the morning themes for this season:

Feb. 8th—"Consecration to Our Task." Exodus 32:39.

Feb. 15—"The Mission of Christ." Matthew 18:11.

Feb. 22—"The Magnetism of Christ." Luke 15:1.

Remley; also our deepest sympathy to her loved ones.

Mrs. Anna Buck, program leader, then took charge of the program. She talked on the power of prayer; Mrs. Elizabeth Blocher on the mystery of prayer, and Mrs. Buck closed with some very helpful thoughts on the importance of prayer. Mrs. Blocher then led in a consecration service of directed prayer, for greater consecration in our individual lives; for righteousness for our nation; for God's tender mercy to the peoples of the world and a just peace, and for wisdom, guidance and strength to be granted the W.C.T.U. in their efforts, as well as all other groups engaged in temperance work.

The meeting then adjourned, each one feeling that it had indeed been most helpful and uplifting, and carrying courage and strength to meet the hard days to come.

Athens College, a Methodist college at Athens, Alabama, found a unique manner of helping young people earn their way through school. Silk hosiery mills were erected and students worked so much time and studied so much.

Then came the government order stopping use of raw silk. Still Athens did not give up. They evolved a method to unravel the best old hose and to clear resin the rest. So if you have old hose will you give it to this worthy cause? It takes eight hundred pairs of old stockings to keep a worthy young person in school a year. You may leave your stockings with Pearl Carrode or Dorothy Durkes or you may bring them to the next W. S. C. meeting.

"NEW CHINA" AND ECHOES OF CHICAGO CONFERENCE PROVIDE PROGRAM AT PHIDIAN ART CLUB

Mrs. I. B. Potter and Mrs. E. M. Goodsell were speakers for the February meeting of the Phidian Art club, held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George B. Shaw. Mrs. Potter discussed "New China," predicting that given freedom from world disturbances, prosperity will come to China in leaps and bounds; and Mrs. Goodsell gave an account of the Conference of Club Presidents which she attended last week at the Art Institute in Chicago.

In new China, Mrs. Potter said, everything is topsy turvy, with a Chinese book beginning where books of this country end, lines of print running down the page instead of across, dinner begins with sweets and ends with soup, the left of the host is the seat of honor, women wear trousers and the men wear long robes, brides don red and the mourning costume is white, a Chinese gentleman puts his hat on to receive a guest, and greets him by shaking hands with himself.

Mrs. Potter mentioned several characteristics and customs of the Chinese, including their rationality and carelessness. "Being rational," she explained, "the Chinese are patient and law-abiding, and until modern times, there were no police." "Squeeze," a local expression for graft or corruption, is considered a basic vice. China cannot build an efficient air force, the speaker explained, because of "squeeze" in aviation contracts.

Until 1911, Mrs. Potter stated, China was governed by various dynasties. She also spoke of the Chinese Revolution of 1911-12, and its resulting struggles, election of Sun Yat Sen as the first president, and Dr. Sun's Three Principles — Nationalism, Democracy, and People's Livelihood—which are still determining motives of Chinese political action. Recent developments enumerated were the growth of industrial co-operatives, building of the Burma Road, China's lifeline to the sea, and of various inventions that have aided China, particularly the airplane, with its ability to annihilate distance and bring about understanding among provincial officials far removed from one another and the seat of government.

Mrs. Goodsell asked the clubwomen to give the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag as Mrs. Charles Clark, president of the conference had done, and mentioned various speakers appearing on the Chicago program, including Mrs. L. L. Purvin, who discussed the Victory Book campaign; Jeannette Phillips, who explained the Red Cross plasma project; Mrs. Alma Kerr, who told of the customs of the Arabians in Bagdad; and Mrs. Blair, who reminded the group that women of the United States own 70 percent of the wealth of the country and that 85 percent of the money is spent by women.

Steward Girl Becomes Bride in Washington

Nuptial vows were read in the chapel of the Mount Vernon Place Methodist church, Washington, D. C., at 6 o'clock last Tuesday evening for Miss Eleanor Wickness, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Wickness of Steward, and Kent H. Randall, son of the Paul B. Randalls of Blackwell, Okla. Dr. John W. Rustin read the ceremony, with the date and hour chosen the same as those having been chosen by the bride's parents, 30 years ago.

Baskets of white gladioli screened the altar, lighted by tall white tapers. Miss Mary Fisher of DeKalb sang two solos, "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly."

The bride wore a gown of ivory satin, designed with long sleeves, a sweetheart neckline and train. Her three-tiered veil of illusion was held in place by a cluster of orange blossoms, and she carried an arm bouquet of white roses. Her only jewelry was a double strand of pearls.

Miss Lillian Wickness, a Rockford school teacher, was her sister's maid of honor. She was wearing a floor-length dress of cream blue marquisette over tulle, and a matching veil fastened with yellow rosebuds. Her arm bouquet contained yellow roses and acacia. Yancey Sweet of Newberry, Fla., served Mr. Randall as best man.

Mrs. Wickness chose a frost blue ensemble with a corsage of gardenias for her daughter's wedding.

A wedding dinner was served to 20 guests at the Parrot tea room, where U-shaped tables were decorated with spring flowers and a two-tiered cake. Mr. Sweet acted as toastmaster.

Guests at the dinner included Dr. and Mrs. Rustin, the Hon. Knute Hill, United States representative from the state of Washington, and John B. May, Jr., chief civilian of the bureau of aeronautics, navy department.

Last week's bride is a private secretary in the undersecretary office, navy department, and her bridegroom is employed in the bureau of aeronautics, navy department. Their new address is 4326 Fairfax drive, Arlington, Va.

JOB'S DAUGHTERS

Following the dinner, the bethel members practiced their ritual, and the newly-formed Mother's club held a brief business meeting.

IN DETROIT

Winnetka Girl to Be Bride of Kenneth Burgess

From their Texas ranch, "Bay View," near Corpus Christi, Mr. and Mrs. Lon Carrington Hill of Winnetka are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Georgette Owsley Hill, to Ensign Kenneth Farwell Burgess, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth F. Burgess, Sr., of Hubbard Woods. Miss Hill is planning an early spring wedding in Winnetka.

Ensign Burgess is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Todd of this city, and a nephew of Mrs. T. J. Miller. He is with the United States Naval Reserve and is stationed with the bureau of navigation in Washington, D. C. His sister, Mary Louise, became Mrs. James Edward Day last July, it will be remembered. He formerly studied at Deerfield academy and was graduated from Yale university.

Georgette was graduated from the North Shore Country Day school and Sarah Lawrence college. She made her debut in September, 1938, at a tea at her parents' Winnetka home. The couple "interpromed" a great many times while in college.

DINNER GUESTS

Mrs. Clara M. Walker of 821 Galena avenue entertained at dinner Sunday, honoring her only son, Ferris Walker, who left Monday for Ft. Sheridan, to be inducted into the army. He formerly served five months in the army, and was recalled recently.

Guests included several of the inductee's friends and his aunt, Rose Rudolph.

Sleeveless Excitement

Voluminous sleeves have so long been a characteristic of evening coats that the new one—without any sleeves at all—worn recently by Ann Sheridan, looks pretty exciting. The screen star is pictured in it at left, above. It's of regal ermine, open down the front, caught together at the fitted waistline. Under it she wears the stunning dolman-sleeved gown seen at right. It's of soft yellow crepe, styled with interesting front drapery keyed to a row of tiny ball buttons. Her jewelry with the ensemble consists of diamond necklace and bracelet.

HOLD PARTY AT WADSWORTH HOME

Marjorie Friel and Cleora Wadsworth planned a surprise welcome last evening for Josephine O'Brien, formerly of Princeton, who has returned to Dixon to accept employment at Knack's.

The party was held at Cleora's country home, and while the hostess and her guest were occupied in the kitchen, other members of the group arrived and hid about the rooms. Notes, handed to the honoree, guided her on a "guest hunt" that revealed the hiding places of the young women.

Games were played, with Mary Kennan and Mary Jean Hake receiving prizes. Steaming hot dogs were served with other refreshments at the close of the evening.

Attending were Dorothy Dele Willis, Mary Kennan, Dorothy Jesse, Mary Jean Hake, Josephine, and the hostesses.

A Thought for Today

Let every soul be subject unto the higher powers.—Romans 13:1.The higher a man is in grace, the lower
he will be in his own esteem.—Spurgeon.

Tax as a Duty

By today every automobile in the United States should have on its windshield a revenue stamp indicating that the owner has paid the $2.09 use tax which carries up to June 30.There seems to be no provision for enforcement of the act. The government has become highly efficient in tracing income and seeing that income taxes are paid, but the machinery to enforce this act is not suitable for running down and prosecuting those who do not pay their automobile use tax.We regard this tax as an opportunity for the government to test public morale—the willingness to pay $2.09 without immediate danger of being thrown into prison or fined because of failure to do so. Any federal official can determine, to a certain extent,
the state of the public mind by noting how many cars are decorated with the use tax stamp.It is inevitable that some persons will have neglected to buy the stamps—figuring that Mr. Mor-genthau will not be around to check up immediately.
And it is inevitable that some, seeing a number of cars not properly stamped, will imagine that if others can get away with refusal to pay, everybody can do likewise.By June 30, however, the government may have perfected a way to enforce collection. Few things are more destructive to public morale than seeing the law defied with impunity. The tax ought to be enforced—or else repealed.

Bombing and Boredom

What sounds like a flippant remark about a grave subject is not really so flippant when you stop to think about it. The remark is that the worst thing about war is that it is such a terrible bore.That doesn't mean that one grows bored with war as a debilitate grows bored with receiving white orchids. It means that there is one terrible and dangerous aspect of war that is concerned with an immense and overwhelming weariness.The United States has been at war only a little over six weeks, so this aspect of war doesn't concern us now. But it may, and it is just as well to understand it in advance.When a war has just begun, or even in its more active phases, there is a tremendous wave of patriotic enthusiasm. But all the waging of war does not consist of a series of dashing deeds. Waging war consists in grinding labor, in doing a thousandlittle things well, and in doing them over and over again as long as it may be necessary. And the country that can keep doing them longest is the country that wins.You probably got a great kick out of buying that first defense bond. But the second week it was less thrilling, the sixth still less so, and by the time the sixtieth week and the hundredth and the two hundred have passed, the whole thing tends to drop into a routine. Thus we are authentically told that in Germany even repeated victory had come, by the time of the fall of Greece, to be a bit of a bore in Berlin. They may be less bored there now.For instance, Noel F. Hall, British economic envoy to the United States, says that "the cumulative effect of the petty annoyances of the temporary loss of a large variety of small things must, I think, have been much more serious to the morale of heavily bombed populations than would have been a larger number of deaths and serious injuries."People rise to the mark in spectacular crises, and even bad news is not too hard to take when you feel you are striking back. It is the long periods of inactivity, the petty annoyances and nuisances,
the constant and relentless pressure that drag peoples spirits down—in other words they induce boredom.Peoples like the Germans, Japanese and Italians, have been living in a state of things for 10 years and more which the United States is just approaching.Do things like standing in line for a use tax stamp for your car bore you? Well, remember that if we have to do it for three or four years, that's still 10 years less than the other fellow has been doing it.

Three Million Volunteers

The various offices of Civilian Defense have now enrolled 3,516,600 volunteers, according to Director
F. H. LaGuardia. That includes 607,300 air wardens, 258,967 auxiliary firemen, 149,359 auxiliary police, 136,676 medical personnel, and 246,030 others. Considering that there were fewer than a million on Nov. 23, this suggests progress.Of course this is up to now largely a paper strength. Most of these people are largely untrained. But they are trying; they are doing what they can. They are all that stands between us and complete confusion in case of air attack.They should be honored for their willingness to help rather than be criticized, especially by those who have not lifted a finger to help.

Pedigreed Junk

What is a medal?
It is honor frozen into metal.

When the honor is dead, the metal is junk.

So 21 prominent New Yorkers have found, at least, turning over to the scrap metal campaign medals presented them by Germany, Italy, and Japan. There were German Iron Crosses, a Bavarian Distinguished Service medal, a solid gold sports medals presented by Hitler himself, honors which no doubt the recipients were glad to receive and proud to wear when they were presented.But they felt that the honor was tarnished, and when the honor is gone out of a medal, scrap and dross remain.In the general reservoir of American war materials, who knows but that this metal may again regain its honor.No matter what you do, some-one always knew you would.Illinois Farmers Given Advice by
Reserve BankerUrbana, Ill., Feb. 4.—(AP)— Spend nothing you do not have to spend; don't start another boom
in land prices.That financial advice was given to Illinois farmers today by Chester C. Davis, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis. In his prepared speech during the annual Farm and Home Week here, Davis said:"Farmers who are out of debt
should use income to build up savings. Every farm family that can possibly set the money aside after reducing or paying up debts should invest, not in new buildings, not in more land, but in U. S. Savings Bonds."Davis said that while Illinois land values increased in 1941, there has been no evidence that the speculative boom of the early 1920's might be repeated."Remember the lean years as well as the good years in appraising the worth of farm property," the speaker cautioned. "Some of the city buyers who have acquired farms recently have not found farming operations as profitable as they had expected in view of the shortage of farm labor and of the difficulty in obtaining capable farm managers."He commended 1,000 Illinois
farmers who have deposited $650,- 000 with the St. Louis Federal Land Bank to be applied against future installments on their mortgages."Pawnee Bill" of Oklahoma Boomer
Fame SummonedPawnee, Okla., Feb. 4.—(AP)—
Major Gordon W. "Pawnee Bill"
Lillie, 81, frontiersman, wild west showman and last surviving leader of the Oklahoma Boomers, is dead.The stocky, white-haired old veteran died last night at his buffalo ranch.He had been an invalid since 1936, when he was injured in an automobile accident near Cleveland, Okla. His wife, May Lillie, was killed.Pawnee Bill was captain of the Boomer movement, which had for its purpose the colonization of Oklahoma territory.The Boomers had become a menace to the peace of communities along the border of the Oklahoma territory and in 1888 Pawnee
Bill was employed by the Wichita, Kas., Chamber of Commerce to organize the scattered bands and lead them into the new country.Lillie, who took the job because the show business was in a slump, assembled about 4,000 followers and moved to Caldwell, Kas., preparatory to an invasion of Oklahoma. The pressure of this group was credited with speeding through congress a bill
opening Oklahoma for settlement in 1889.

ed to the memory of Frances Willard. Nearly every state in the ings, fountains, flowers and trees named for the crusader. Mrs.

Wilson concluded her remarks

vice. Several women read tributes to Miss Willard, and during the reading, white carnations were placed in a vase, and the bouquet
was later presented to a member

BEHIND
THE NEWS
By PAUL MALLON(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)Washington, Feb. 3.—The navy raid on the Marshall and Gilbert islands was an effort to cut a clear seaway for us through to the Dutch East Indies and Australia, in my opinion.It does not represent the opening salvo of a drive to retake the stepping stones we have lost or to fight our way back across the central Pacific. If we were ready for that, we would have captured
the islands or have tried to recapture Wake or Guam.The Japs have an inside track to the central Pacific area, well protected by the Volcano and Marianne islands running straight south from Tokyo to Guam. We will have to wait to crack that.But they were sitting right across our transport route with large forces of scouting planes and bombers in the Marshall and Gilbert bases. (Their air forces must have been large because we lost 11 planes in the attack). Those bases had to be broken up to assure safety for our ships moving into the southern Pacific.Thus, it seems to me, the unexplained raid was neither a foray (like the commando raids on Norway) nor necessarily the opening of a broad attack. While this is purely a personal interpretation, no other seems to fit the announced facts.Nelson is getting ready for some head-rolling. His sharp new arrangement for keeping daily track of progress on 300 main war items was a preparation for
it. All who do not produce must go, and this new daily check-up will show who is not producing,
although this conclusion was not mentioned in the official announcements.It is true big shots around WPB
running production, priorities,
raw materials, civilian supply,
labor and procurement are about the same as before, but this may not be true in two or three weeks.Nelson now is to receive from Stacy May, head of his progress reporting division, a report each 24 hours on all lagging of production behind the schedules fixed.
If tank, gun or plane production,
for instance, falls off for a day, Nelson will know it next day. If the defect is in tanks, Nelson will request for a breakdown on tank production, showing whether transmissions, armor, bearings or what, is holding up the parade.
Within half an hour after receiving the deficiency reports, Nelson expects to have his finger on the trouble.His notion seems to be that alibis have held up production
more than anything else so far,
and he believes this check-up is alibi-proof. He will soon be able to fix responsibility on the individual or individuals at fault either in his WPD, the army or in industry.It now develops that when the senate agriculture committee
barred the door and went to work
on Agriculture Secretary Wickard, they gave him the roughest
mauling a cabinet officer has received in many a year. One senator threatened him with impeachment.The farm bloc is still angry (though comparatively quiet) at having been outwitted in the last analysis of the price bill by Henderson (back by Roosevelt). They now feel stronger against their friend Wickard than against their antagonist, Henderson. If the government surplus-selling program is so conducted as to hold farm prices around 100 per cent of parity you may see some new legislation tacked on as a rider
to one of these appropriations bills (designed to keep the government from selling.)Billions of dollars for war are flying through congress like feathers from a billion pillows.
The senate spent less than two hours on the $26,000,000,000 naval appropriations bill. Not much more time was devoted to debating the $12,500,000,000 army
bill. (Together they amount almost to the size of the federal debt when it worried many people
a year or two back.)The committees ask the admirals and generals only whether the budget bureau has approved
the outlay and then shoot it through. Categories are lumped

Burial will be in the church cemetry.In 1939, there were 1,625,820
tractors on farms of the United States.to disguise specific purposes so there is nothing to debate.Ripley won't believe this one:
There is more silver in the nickel than in the dollar. Since silver has been substituted for copper in the nickel, twenty of them (a dollar's worth) contain 1.6 ounces of silver, while the dollar contains only .77 ounces—less than half as much.This fact can only be a minor fiscal oddity, however, as there is a law against anyone melting coins—and what would you do with the silver anyway?

TAMBAY GOLD

BY SAMUEL HOPKINS ADAMS

IN THE CABIN

CHAPTER XXVII

WHILE I was waiting on them, Juddy slipped across to the plane and pinched the revolver.
She wasn't for letting Angel shoot
some poor slob that might be perfectly innocent. They put off without noticing their loss.They hadn't been gone half an hour when Doc showed up at the Feederia. He was in his working clothes, and he looked white and grave."Old Swoby is back," Doc said.
"I've got him in the shelter."
"Then everything's jake," I said."No. He's been shot,"
"Shot?" Juddy forgot her feud
with Doc. "What—why—"
"It isn't serious. Flesh wound.
I've dressed his arm.""What have they got on him?"
"He was found hiding in a barn
near the place.""Hiding from the airplanes?"
"Of course. But could you get a mob to believe that? There's something else. The woman, before she died, muttered something about a man with a red head.
Swoby had that infernal red cap
of his on. When they found him,
he ran.""What'll we do, Doc?"
"I've telephoned the State Police.""Did you get 'em?"
"No, they're all out on the hunt.
I left word."I hustled across to the Feederia
and brought back my good old forty-five."Look," I said. "Give this to Old Swoby and head him for the Big Swamp. They won't find him there. Not tonight. Lord! What's that?" But I'd heard that lost-soul wailing before."Bloodhounds," he said. "The swamp is hopeless." He turned to Juddy. "Is there a bar to the door of the log shed in your back yard?"

"Yes."

"My God, Doc!" I said. "Are you crazy? You can't stand 'em off there.""Have you got any better plan?"
"No. But—""You don't expect me to give Swoby up, surely.""I'd rather have him killed than you."Swoby came out. He stared from one to the other of us and then said something that made me almost cry. "Why must they kill me?" he said. "This is not my country.""You must do what Mr. Oliver tells you," Juddy said to him.
Something shoved against my leg. It was Dolf."Okay, boy," I said. "Trail along. You like trouble."WE all went across the road to make ready. Doc sized up the log cabin and the lay of the land around it. He had his pistol. I had my old forty-five whanger.
Juddy's twelve-gauge stood in the hall corner. I sneaked it and a box of shells and gave the lot to Old Swoby who'd been in the war
and knew a gun when he saw it.
Juddy had hung on to the gat she swiped from Hendy's plane."They might try to burn us out," Doc said. "We'd better roll that rain barrel in. We'll need buckets." That guy thought of everything.While Juddy and I were getting out the buckets for water the sound of the dogs got nearer and more mournful. They were baying at the ford where Old Swoby waded the stream. That didn't give us too much time. Doc spoke up, quiet and business like."This is the plan. When they come, I shall try to get a hearing.
I don't want to hurt anyone. But I do want them to believe that we're prepared to shoot if necessary. Now you two go back to the mansion and keep after the troopers.""And leave you here?" Juddy said."This is no time to argue," he said. "Go back."Juddy didn't argue. She just walked into the shack. I trailed.
Dolf followed me."For God's sake, Juddy!"
Her voice shook, too, when she spoke. "I'm not afraid. At least, not very.""Mom," he said. "Mom! Get her out!""Don't start anything Doc," I warned him. "I was base of a living pyramid once. You can't shove me around. And I won't let you shove Juddy. We're staying.""They come now," Old Swoby said.The hounds were yelling for blood; the mob, too. The front line of the chase struggled into the yard. Doc pushed the big door shut and slipped the bar. Old Swoby took his place at the rear window with Juddy's gun. It all looked to me like bad trouble.Doc stood by the small front window next the door.
"Everybody quiet, please," he said. "I'll do the talking."HE stuck his pistol through the window and fired a shot in the air. A car swung into the grounds.
By its lights I could see the advance guard taking cover in the thickets. Bixie Groff and a bunch of his townies were behind one clump."Don't come any further," Doc said. You'd have thought he was in his classroom. Quiet authority; that was his pitch. Some bird behind a live oak called out."Give the fella up, Prof. We got nothing against you.""Anybody interferes, they're right liable to get hurt."Groff, with a couple of his pals, was edging over to the left. A bullet plunked into the log above
my head. Some more followed.
They were firing high. The car lights were switched off now, but there was enough moon so we could see a man moving forward alone."Stop that shooting," he said.
"Maurie Sears," Juddy said."Quiet!" Doc snapped at her.
"Oliver!" Sears called. "Can I have a word with you?"

"Certainly."

He walked up to the door.
Through my chink between the logs, I could see his face, stern
and set."You might as well give him up Oliver.""So that you and your friends can lynch him?""I'll never have a hand in another lynching. Not at Tambay."
(Well, I knew why that was.)

Myers & Nolan Cling to the Top in City League

Strub & Schultz Win High Game Honors With 1,038

The Myers and Nolan keepers by turning back the second-place Post Office team, managed with fair ease to hang onto top position in the Dixon Recreation City League. Bob Pfaff counted a 550 in order to pace his mates, while Fallstrom rolled in front for the Postmen with 544.

The Myers Royal Blue with some difficulty pulled through for a triumph over the Reynolds Wire team. Their margin of high count being one pin in an extra frame after the regular ten frames had ended in a tie and thereby making it a two game victory over the Reynolds bowlers. Fordham was the cause of all this "do-do" over the tie by striking out in the tenth frame and evening his Wire mates with the Grocers' total; then he proceeded on to top count for Reynolds with a series of 573. The Grocers high total was 529 which was aggregated by Plozman.

High bowling game for the evening went to the Strub & Schultz bowlers with a 1,038 in their final game which gave them two wins from the Blackhawk Stores. The high man for the Oilers as Hanson with 529 and Bollman led the Grocers with 476.

The Three Deuces grabbed three games from the Meister Brau. Cy Winebrenner fronted the attack with 578 and Bob Potter countered with 485.

The high games for the evening were: Winebrenner 212; Considine 214; Hanson 308; Fordham 203; Plozman 202; L. Melvin 202 and Duffy 211.

Steward Polishes Off Amboy Five in Grandiose Way

Richardson and Anderson Account for 39 Points

Over at Steward last night two Lee county teams enacted the age-old drama of David and Goliath; whereby, diminutive Steward lashed away at the red-clads from Amboy and finally thumped them, unmercifully is the word, to the tune of 63 to 37. However, in the opening tilt the Amboy ponies proved their mettle by turning back Steward 20 to 18.

Steward outscored Amboy in every period. She jumped off to an early lead of 15 to 7 in the first quarter and increased her margin by five points in the second frame which ended with Amboy trailing on the end of a 34 to 21 score.

Steward clung to her fast pace of scoring in the third period by accumulating 17 more advances on the board while Amboy made her strongest bid in this frame with 14 tallies. In the nightcap canto the boys from Steward garnered an additional 10 point margin 12 to 2 and pushed herself to the grand total of 63 points while Amboy lingered with 37.

Richardson, an ex-Lee high star and now in his senior year at Steward, paced his mates with 11 buckets and one charity counter; while his scoring mate, Anderson, was second high with 16 points. McKewen ran high for the Amboy quint with 14 tallies.

Art Driver Five of Oregon Dumps Polo in Easy Tilt

Over at the Coliseum gym in Oregon last night Coach Art Driver's quint jumped another hurdle in the Rock River Valley Conference by emerging with the long count in a 44 to 26 encounter with the Polo Marcos. The curtain raiser provided all the thrills for the evening by finishing the fray with a tie and an overtime was required in which the Polo 'lites' eked out a 28 to 27 win over the Oregon youngsters.

Oregon grabbed an early lead at the end of the first stanza and had the Marcos wallowing in amazement with the board reading of 13 to 2 staring at the latter. However, in the second quarter the Marcos completely folded and were outnumbered 15 to 4. The Oregon boys found a little tougher going in the third for the Marcos offensive clicked up eleven points and then nine more in the final period; nevertheless the Polo defense remained weak throughout the battle and Oregon rolled up 17 in the third and nine more in the fourth which gave them a 44 to 26 victory over the Polo five.

Holby, Marcos' center, ran off 17 of his mates' total of 26. Bockner, playing at a guard post for Oregon, led his team with 19 points.

Shannon Defeats Forreston Quint

With both clubs displaying real ball, Forreston, because she allowed Shannon a ten point margin in the second quarter, was defeated 43 to 30 on her home court. The statistics are even indicative of a hard fought battle for twenty-nine personal fouls were committed; Shannon with 13 and Forreston 16. The Forreston second team was more successful and easily thumped the Shannon juniors 40 to 27.

The fray started off with a bang and the first quarter tie of 6 to 6 showed that a tough job loomed ahead for both teams; however, in the second period the Forreston defense lagged and Shannon quickly grabbed an advantage by putting through 15 counts to Forreston's 5.

The second half started with Forreston determined to avenge her earlier mistake and outscored her opponents 11 to 8. The fourth quarter saw an over-zealous five attempting to take over the Shannon advantage, but they failed to function and Shannon gained another two point margin which made the score read at the finish Shannon 43 and Forreston 30.

Alexander and Rotemer, both forwards for Shannon, headed the invaders with 13 points each. Unangst paced his cohorts with 13. Shannon (43)

Stillman Valley in 34 to 29 Victory Over Byron High

The Stillman Valley basketballers coached by Ralph McLeod not only played host last night to Byron but also played them off their feet and sent them home graced with a 34 to 29 defeat. The Stillman Valley "B" team made it a grand slam in the first game by chalking up an easy win of 34 to 11 over the Byron second team.

Stillman Valley had to fight for her lead in the first stanza which ended at 10 to 7. They played almost even-up ball in the second with Stillman counting 10 to Byron's 9. In the third both teams went more for the defensive than scoring and the ball game rested, going into the fourth at 28 to 22. Seeing as how it was still anyone's ball game the Byrones made their toughest bid and outscored the Valley lads 7 to 6 and the count finished at 34 to 29.

Fry sank 6 buckets and one free throw to lead his mates with thirteen points. McNames and Noyes each totaled nine points to carry the burden for the losers.

Football ABANDONED
DUE TO TIRE RATINGS
Now comes the actuality which many of us, who are vitally interested in athletics, have feared since tire rationing arrived. Metropolis Community high school has abolished inter-scholastic football from its extra-curricular activities for the duration of the war; as announced by Principal George Schneeman.

Principal Schneeman stated that private automobiles had been in use for the transportation of the football team and that now he deemed it not practical because of the rationing of tires.

A program of inter-mural sports will supplant the regular football schedule and this will consist of: softball and both six-man and eleven-man football.

Your attention is particularly directed to the shortage of oil, which isn't new but is vitally important. As so often mentioned in this column, one of Hitler's greatest dangers lies in the increasing oil shortage. Without it he couldn't carry on, either in war or in industry.

The story is the same throughout much of Europe. There is a shortage of coal and oil and metals—in fact, of virtually all vital supplies. Worst of all, the food shortage is rendered more grave by disrupted distribution.

You undoubtedly read the further news from Greece yesterday, telling of the starving people who prolong their pitiful lives by eating grass and weeds—folks without any fires to help them through the coldest winter in twenty years. The situation in Greece is exceptionally bad, of course. But hunger and privation are widespread throughout the continent.

Small wonder then that the peoples in Nazi bondage are revolting against their overlords. You see it in France, Norway, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Yugoslavia, Holland—in short, wherever the heavy hand of Hitler rests. The latest straw to show how the wind blows comes from Stockholm today—news that the nazis have imposed a state of siege on Amsterdam because of public demonstrations and sabotage.

In calling attention to this situation it isn't my purpose to create a wave of optimism—though we are entitled to take encouragement from it—but to help clarify the status of the war. It can be seen how necessary it is to strike hard at Hitler now as his difficulties increase, and not give him any chance to recover, or to use his still great strength against some weak spot.

This, of course, explains problem of the allies in finding quick reinforcements for the battle of the Pacific. Still, it doesn't mean that the Japs are to be given their heads to run wild, as witness the announcement today by Generalissimo Wavell that America and Britain are sending "great reinforcements."

Wavell called on his forces not to give another inch to the Japanese but to hold the invaders and so give the allies time to send aid. That is the task of the United Nations right now—a nasty job of holding. Back-to-the-wall fighting produces heroic efforts, but it's quite likely to produce a lot of grief and loss, and we must expect that before things get better.

"Lost Again" Youths of Murphysboro, Ill., Reported "Found Again"

Russians Prepare For Real War Test During Coming May

Sir Stafford Cripps, Late Ambassador to Moscow, Has Story

By SIR STAFFORD CRIPPS
(Former British ambassador to Russia and one of the world's best informed authorities on that country.)

Copyright, 1943, by Wide World
London, Feb. 5.—In the mass of contradictory propaganda which floods the world in these times of war, everyone is doubtful as to what to believe and what to discard. Let me therefore at the commencement give you my view as to the reliability of Russian news.

When fighting is going on along a front of 2000 miles, collection of 100 per cent reliable news is impossible, but it is unimportant whether there is exact accuracy or not.

What we want to know is the principle that is adopted in giving the news. It may be the principle of the nazis to make the news fit the monetary needs of propaganda regardless of the facts—or that of making the news as truthful and unexaggerated as safety of armed forces permits.

This latter method, which has been adopted by the British government as its principle, may lead to many omissions especially when things are going badly, but it does not lead to exaggeration of success.

It is this latter principle that the Russians have utilized.

If you compare the announcements of the Germans as to the capture of towns, always premature and often false, with those of the Russians, you should have no difficulty deciding upon the comparative reliability of the two.

Germans Not Defeated
The German army is not yet a defeated army, nor has it yet been routed.

It has, however, had to leave a great number of occupied points and towns that it would very much like to have held through the winter. In leaving those towns, it certainly has not been the cold or Russian winter that has forced the evacuation.

They are leaving because they are being driven out after hard fighting by the Russians and they are leaving behind them a mass of material that they would dearly like to get away if they could stop long enough to take it with them.

The whole question now is one of morale. If the morale of the Germans was to break, the retreat would become a rout.

At present that morale stands, although there are signs it is not as firm as it once was.

When we come to the consideration of what spring will bring forth, then we embark upon prophecy which is even more dangerous in this war than generally.

Spring Uncertain
Spring in central Russia as a rule begins between the middle and end of March. If there are very heavy snows as there have already been this year, then the winter will last perhaps two months before the land gets dry and hard once again.

This period of thaw is the most difficult time of all for military operations or any movements of transport.

So the time for renewed activities under normal conditions will not come before the beginning of May and perhaps not before the end of that month.

The Russians will be as much held up as the Germans and, therefore, the position of the rival forces at the end of March will decide the direction of the summer campaign.

No doubt the Germans will try to gather forces for a fresh push, perhaps in the south against the Caucasus. But by that time the Russians will have still more fresh armies, and all factories they have moved to the east should be then be again in operation.

They have not as great manufacturing resources as the Germans with all the occupied regions of Europe to assist them, but nevertheless, Russian production will have gone up very considerably by spring.

But it is just here that America and Great Britain come right into the picture. We have between us huge manufacturing capacity and must give to the Russians enough armaments to make certain that when the new clash comes in the spring, they are not at a disadvantage.

If by our efforts we can make the spring offensive in Europe a decisive success for the Russians, we shall not only save hundreds of thousands of Russian lives, but British and American lives as well.

Gov. Green Considers Plan to Offer State Farm for Army Base

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Governor Green late yesterday told a delegation of Vandalia civic leaders that he would consider their proposal that the Vandalia state penal farm be offered to the U. S. Army as a training camp.

The group, headed by Birdie Tedrick, president of the Chamber of Commerce, told the governor that the penal farm would make an ideal training base for any branch of the army and had permanent accommodations in its dormitories for at least 800 soldiers.

They stressed the value of electric and water system installations and some 2,000 acres of available land surrounding the institution. If the farm were put to use as a training center by the army, they said, additional accommodations could be constructed. Prisoners would be returned to county jails.

Japanese troops were locked in heavy fighting on Ambolna island, site of the Indies' second biggest naval base, 635 miles north of Australia, an N. E. I. communique reported.

A German broadcast, quoting the Tokyo radio, asserted that Japanese troops had completed occupation of Ambolna.

British North Borneo—Berlin quoted Imperial Tokyo headquarters as saying Japanese forces captured the Celebes sea port of Tawao, on the southeast coast of British Borneo.

Burma—A Tokyo broadcast said Japanese bombers, attacking by moonlight, raided an airport at Rangoon and twice heavily bombed an airfield to Toungoo, between Rangoon and Mandalay on the Burma Road to China.

Dispatches from Rangoon said American volunteer fliers smashed time and again at Japanese batteries hidden in the river islands north of enemy-occupied Moulmein, across the bay from Rangoon.

British Imperials and Burmese native battalions skirmished with Japanese patrols along 40 miles of the lower Salween river front, but the Japanese thrusts so far had not taken on the power of a full-scale attack.

Philippines—A war department bulletin said Gen. Douglas MacArthur's hard-fighting troops sharply beat off another Japanese attack on the American left flank on Batan peninsula, the night of Feb. 3.

Australia—Australian bombers scored a direct hit on a big Japanese ship in the harbor of Japanese-occupied Rabaul, New Britain.

Latest dispatches from Singapore said there was still no outward sign that the Japanese were about to launch their expected assault across Johore Strait, with the invaders apparently resting and concentrating their forces.

Aged Man's Sickness Delays Dam Closing

Hayesville, N. C., Feb. 4.—(AP)—A 92-year-old farmer lay ill with double pneumonia at his farm home close by the Hiwassee river today and the storing of water for a huge TVA power development was at a standstill as a result.

For as long as S. J. Penland remains seriously ill and cannot be removed the Chatuge dam cannot be closed. Closing the dam, scheduled for Jan. 24, would back up water to Penland's very door within a day or two.

Physicians said today that it might be weeks before Penland could be removed.

Meanwhile the 140-foot high dam stands while the Hiwassee rushes on. Chatuge is designed to store water for regulated use at Hiwassee dam, farther down the stream.

From Amoy, the voyage to either the Macassar Strait district, from which the Japanese menace Java, or to the Malay peninsula above Singapore would take about a week.

The navy's announcement that "a naval battalion composed of bluejackets and marines has been organized and is fighting on Batan peninsula with Gen. MacArthur's command" was taken to refer to forces which had been left behind when the navy withdrew from the Philippines a month ago.

Landing Checkmated

The battalion presumably included several hundred men. Clark Lee, Associated Press correspondent with MacArthur's troops, was permitted to disclose that the sailors and a force of American aviators, fighting on land with rifles in the Batan jungles, checkmated a Japanese landing attempt several days ago.

The sailors and the aviators were unfamiliar with jungle fighting, but soon became expert at tossing grenades, avoiding ambush and using available natural cover. After the sailors and fliers had pushed the Japanese back to the shore, Filipino scouts took over an annihilated the enemy with the aid of shells from a naval patrol vessel.

Navy Communique

In its communique the navy also told of the third successful action of a torpedo boat of the western Pacific mosquito fleet.

"A motor torpedo boat of Admiral Hart's Far Eastern command is believed to have torpedoed an enemy warship in night action inside Manila Bay", the communique said. "Although under heavy fire of the warship's guns, and in the full glare of her searchlights, the motor torpedo boat managed to fire two torpedoes and survive the action without being hit."

The navy also announced that the U. S. S. Neches, a 5,400-ton naval tanker, had been sunk by a submarine with 56 men missing. The area of the sinking and the name of the port where 126 survivors arrived safely were not disclosed.
